

What is ATENPRO?

What services does it offer?

The Attention and Protection Telephone Service for Victims of Male Violence (ATENPRO) is a telecare device that allows users to contact at any time a centre staffed by personnel specifically trained to specifically trained to provide an appropriate response to their personal situation.

It offers immediate and remote attention, ensuring a rapid response to any eventualities that may arise, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, whenever they may be.

The Service Centre is in regular contact with the users of the service with the aim of carrying out permanent follow-ups. In emergency situations, the Centre's staff is prepared to provide an adequate response to the crisis, either by using its own resources or by mobilising other human and material resources.

The service is accessible for women with hearing impairment (SOTA Module) via an application installed on the terminal and allows contact with the Service Centre through textmessage correspondence.

More information:

Your local council's Equality or Social Services

Information to Local Entities:
atenpro@femp.es

Website: www.atenpro.es

Follow us on:

@delgovbg @Atenproes

@delgovbg

Delegación del Gobierno contra la
Violencia de Género

Atenpro

Care and Protection Service for female victims of male violence

Peace of mind when you need it, 365 days of the year

Support, information and advice 24 hours a day

Immediate response to emergency situations
by telephone

Connected to a call centre that informs the law enforcement authorities in risk situations

Mobile device, with
GPS tracker

Requirements for access to the service:

- ✓ You are a female victim of gender-based violence
- ✓ You are not living with the aggressor who has abused you
- ✓ You participate in the specialised care programmes existing in your territory
- ✓ You accept the service's operating rules and cooperate in their proper functioning.

If you meet these access requirements, you can apply to join the ATENPRO service at the local Equality Services or Social Services that correspond to your address.

Find out more in your city council

Calls from the client to the Centre

- You can call for different reasons: request psychological care, talk to a social worker, communicate emergency situations, changes to your contact details, report changes to your situation, request information on resources and services, etc.

- You will also be able to respond to follow-up calls made by the Call Centre

- In the event of an emergency situation, you will be able to call the Call Centre, which will mobilise the appropriate resources for the situation (notification of the local law enforcement authorities, health resources, etc.) and provide solutions.

Calls from the Customer Service Centre

- Once you have registered for the service, you will receive regular calls from the Service Centre (you can opt for fortnightly or monthly calls) to follow up on the situation.

- In addition to these calls, you may also receive other calls on the occasion of relevant events (e.g. if you have to attend a trial), or communications to verify the correct functioning of the system.

- Finally, following an emergency call, post-emergency follow-ups will be scheduled to provide continuity to the intervention started at the time of the alarm and to assess your psychosocial state after the alarm.